Speculative Trading In Wheat Ended at Winnipeg Exchange

Federal Government Agency Arranging to Take Delivery of Wheat During August—Open Market Continues in Oats, Rye, Barley, Flax

WINNIPEG, July 31.—Speculators, unwilling to risk acceptance of delivery of actual wheat, stepped to the sidelines today, as trading in futures virtually ceased and the Winnipeg Grain Exchange became for the time being at least a cash market.

With July futures wiped off the trading board through expiration of the month, only the August future was left for traders, and with the first day of August arriving tomorrow, it was in effect a cash market.

Previously the new future months shifted into each other—the July option at expiration moving into the October future and having a definite price relationship.

NO BASIS FOR PRICES
But this year, the Dominion Wheat Board comes into being and will set a minimum price which farmers will be paid for their wheat in 1935. Until that price is set, the grain exchange has no basis for a price for a new future.

Prepaid Taxes to Month-End Show Considerable Gain

PREPAID taxes up to the end of July amounted to $223,188.09, according to figures compiled at the City Hall late yesterday afternoon. The sum is an increase of $85,597.08 over the total for the corresponding period last year.

Interest of $17,082.75 has been allowed on the prepayments. Yesterday alone $1,164.51 was received for application to taxes due late this year. Interest of 5 per cent will be allowed on prepayments up to October 1.

Last year up to the end of July, $537,601.01 had been received on tax accounts before due date. Interest of $14,351.94 was allowed.

At that time the December option was pegged at seventy-five cents a bushel and the May option at eighty cents. When the July option appeared in November, it was pegged at eighty-one and one-quarter cents a bushel. Late this spring the peg on July wheat was changed to eighty cents, and when the August future was listed it too was pegged at eighty cents.

At the close of the market today, August wheat sold at eighty-five and five-eighths cents a bushel for a gain of almost one cent. Final trading in July wheat was eighty-five and one-half cents for a three-quarter-cent gain. Both were well above their eighty-cent pegs.

Traders went back to the war years of 1917-18 and the post-war period, 1919-20, for conditions re-

WEATHER HERE DISAPPOINTING

Report for July Shows Sunshine Below Average and Rain Above Normal

While Victoria enjoyed some fine weather in spots during July, the month, generally, was disappointing from a meteorological point of view. The mean temperature for the month, E. Napier Denison, director of Comox Observatory, reported last night, was fifty-nine degrees, or one degree below average. The highest temperature was recorded on July 13, when the mercury rose to ninety. The lowest was on July 5 and 6, when the temperature dropped to forty-eight degrees.

Sunshine also was below average for several months and the result was barely noticed in exchange operations. Conditions which go into effect tomorrow, it was said, have existed for the past two months. The market has been unsettled; they point out, and any potential speculative demand has disappeared on that account.

It was not thought that the new order would entail any cutting of staffs in the various grain offices.

AGED RESIDENT IS CALLED BY DEATH

The death occurred suddenly at the residence, 1148 Oscar Street, on Tuesday, of Mrs. Catherine Malcolm, widow of Campbell Malcolm. In her seventy-sixth year she was born in the Shetland Islands and had been living in Victoria for the past forty-six years.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. F. R. Moore, Mrs. E. V. McIntyre and Miss Mabel Malcolm, of Victoria, and Mrs. J. D. Vosper, Vancouver; two sons, Robert, Victoria, and William, Vancouver; sixteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The remains are resting in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where the funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. Interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

TRAGIC DEATHS ARE REGRETTED

Provincial Government Expresses Sympathy With Families of Victims

Members of the Provincial Government expressed shocked regret yesterday, at the tragic death of Dean R. W. Brock and Mrs. Brock, who lost their lives in an airplane crash.

"Hon. G. S. Pearson said: 'The news of the tragically sudden death of Dean R. W. Brock, chairman of the Vancouver Harbor Board, and of Mrs. Brock, comes as a shock to myself and other members of the Provincial Mines Department.'

"It is difficult to find words to express our sense of loss. As everyone recognized who had the privilege of his acquaintance, Dean Brock was a man of the highest standards as a citizen. His training directed his interests to problems relating to geology and mining engineering, and the work he did in Canada whilst director of the geological survey, and Federal deputy minister of mines, was of such character that his name will live.

WAS POPULAR

"His memory will be treasured by the alumni of the University of British Columbia, to whom he lectured as a member of the faculty of applied science, giving of his wide and deep knowledge, and of his experience, in their training for professional activity.

"There are hundreds of young men in this province who will recall many personal kindnesses in the way of advice and assistance extended during their university careers. Dean Brock's familiar and genial figure will be greatly missed in the regular gatherings at the university, and in connection with the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

"It is only possible to add that sincere sympathy is offered to the bereaved family of the late Dean Brock and Mrs. Brock."

MOURNED BY MANY

VANCOUVER, July 31.—Leaders in many walks of life joined today in mourning the death of Dean R. W. Brock, of the University of British Columbia, killed yesterday in an airplane crash at Alta Lake, B.C.

"I have known few men to whom one might so fittingly apply a passage from Shakespeare: 'His life was gentle and the elements so mixed that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, this was a man,'" said Hon. G. M. Weir, British Columbia Minister of Education and a former university faculty associate.

"He was a gentleman and a scholar always—an educator and a scientist, and his contribution in both fields was outstanding. His loss to the educational community is irreparable."

PRESIDENT KILNICK

Dr. L. S. Kilnick, president, University of British Columbia, declared Dean Brock's death will come as a shock to friends in all parts of Canada and the English-speaking world.

"At the university, where his association dated from 1914, his intimate knowledge of the natural resources of the province, his enthusiasm for his work, his untiring energy, his ability to inspire his students and his insistence for fundamentals in the lecture room, combined with practical experience in the field, resulted in the training of a select group of men whose achievements were a credit to himself and the university."

"The passing of Dean Brock is nothing short of a calamity to this community and to the whole of Canada," said T. B. Dixon, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, of which the dean was a member.

"He was what I would call a wonderful citizen—always ready and more than willing to answer every call to service. In the Board of Trade we all valued him as one of our best members, always helpful, always responding to every call for advice or active work."

WAS REAL FRIEND

J. B. Thomson, commissioner of the Vancouver Harbor Board, of which Dean Brock was chairman, said: "I have lost not only a colleague of the most unusual parts, but a real friend of many years' standing."

"We became closely associated on the harbor board and it is simply beyond me to express my regard for his qualities as a man and an executive."

"I have no hesitation in calling

DR. K. GORDON SAYS SYSTEM LIKE JUNGLE

C.C.F. Federal Candidate Speaks to Audience of 1,200 at Picnic

CONSTRUCTION PARTY OF STEVENS BERATED

Despite changeable weather which developed into a chilly late afternoon, 1,200 persons gathered at the annual C.C.F. picnic held at the Willows Beach yesterday.

Young and old alike participated in tug-of-war, foot races, high jumps and softball. The day came to a close with music from Bowler's Boys' Band, a best baby contest, amateur vaudeville show and a short talk by Dr. King Gordon, C.C.F. Federal candidate in Victoria.

"At a picnic we are cheerful and natural, but at home or at work we are tired of a system of society that makes us live like beasts in the jungle," declared Dr. Gordon, when introduced to the gathering by Rev. Robert Connell, M.P.P.

Dr. Gordon asserted that the forthcoming election campaign was the first one in the history of Canada in which arose the question "Do people want a society in which they can always be secure and happy?"

NEW SOCIAL SYSTEM

He said application of the brains and intelligence possessed by C.C.F. adherents would result in the laying down of a new social system. People who were afraid of losing their jobs, afraid of sickness, old age and of the future of their children would all be secure with the C.C.F. governing Canada, he asserted.

"Liberty will be secured at the polls, even though the history of the British Empire was founded upon it." "Free Canadians, he thought, were afraid to vote C.C.F. because they believed they would lose their positions.

Dr. Gordon asked what lay ahead of the children. In the age of declining capitalism, he urged mothers and fathers to fight against powers that would treat them like children. In several European countries, he offered to give every ounce of energy

Scientist Says All Attempts to Predict Quakes Have Failed

Method Used by New York Forecaster Well Known—Points to Fact Latest Prediction Not Fulfilled in Attacking System

PASADENA, Cal., July 31 (AP)—Widespread publicity to the claims of Reuben Greenspan, of New York, of ability to predict earthquakes, today shook the world's foremost laboratory for earthquake study into action.

The Carnegie Institution seismological laboratory, through Dr. Beno Gutenberg, geophysicist member of the staff, said all attempts to predict earthquakes have been without success. Furthermore, he said, the Greenspan methods are not at all new.

"Earthquake predictions have been published by the press and in magazines, especially for July 30," the statement sets forth.

NO SHOCK RECORDED

"In some instances Turkey, Persia, Western India or the northern part of Africa were mentioned as a region of the origin. In others, more exactly, a strong shock in Western India was predicted for this date. No destructive shock corresponding to the prediction has occurred.

"According to the report these predictions were made on changes in the gravitational pull due to the varying positions of the sun, the moon and the planets. The moon producer tides in the solid crust of the earth with an up and down movement twice a day, which frequently exceeds one foot . . .

DOES NOT EXIST

"If the gravitational pull of these bodies is really acting as a major cause of earthquakes there should be a clear parallelism between earthquake frequencies and the changes in the gravitational pull.

"Statistics, however, show in many regions that such a parallel definitely does not exist, while in others there is a slight change in the frequency of earthquakes corresponding to these changes in gravity, but by far too small to base earthquake predictions on this fact."

While steaming between Hongkong and Yokohama, Captain L. D. Douglas, commander of the Ss. Empress of Japan, which docked here Tuesday from the Orient, sighted the sturdy sailing ship Romance, commanded by Captain E. P. The encounter of the two ships was made almost in the Port of Yokohama, where the Romance intended having slight repairs made to her engines.

Captain Douglas, vouching for the staunchness of the ship Romance, thinks it will be towards the end of September before the vessel reaches Vancouver, the ultimate destination.

Leader of Shriners Brings Reports of Better Conditions

L. P. Steuart, Imperial Potentate of Mystic Shrine, Assisting in Plans for Great 1936 Convention in Seattle—Victoria to Benefit

WITH a broad smile and reports of better times, L. P. Steuart, imperial potentate of the Mystic Shrine, arrived in Victoria yesterday on board Ss. Princess Kathleen and was welcomed by illustrious Potentate Dr. Frank M. Bryant of Gizeh Temple, Alderman Walter Luney, past potentate, and Mrs. Luney, Alderman J. A. Worthington and Mrs. Worthington, Alderman T. W. Hawkins and L. A. Grogan, recorder of Gizeh Temple.

Mr. Steuart, who in addition to being Imperial Potentate of the Shrine, is one of the leading businessmen of Washington, D.C., has kept his eye on business conditions throughout the country as he has conducted his tour of Shrine temples in the United States.

MORE OPTIMISM

There is more optimism everywhere, he explained on arrival, not only among manufacturers but among farmers as well.

"In Montana I heard they'll have more wheat this year than they've had for three years, and more rain than they've had for five," Mr. Steuart said.

"In the Middle West, last Spring, the people and animals suffered terribly from sand storms, but when I passed through there recently, I was surprised at the remarkable change," he declared. "The crops are more plentiful and better than they've been for several years and everyone is feeling better—believing God has led them through the wilderness."

BETTER TIMES

In his opinion, the root of all prosperity lies with the farmer. Whenever the farmer has money he spends it on what he wants: clothes, farming implements, furniture, automobiles, horses and many other commodities, the visitor pointed out.

With the farmer in a better position than he has been for years, there is every indication that the wheels of business will soon turn at a lively speed, Mr. Steuart declared.

The better the conditions the more delegates may be expected to attend the annual convention in Seattle, next July, of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, the imperial potentate continued. When the Shrine last met in Seattle in 1915, there were 75,000 visitors, and when the organization gathered at the recent 1935 convention in Washington, D.C., about 40,000 delegates, with another 60,000 relatives and friends, poured into the Capital City of the United States.

VICTORIA TO BENEFIT
Victoria may well expect a large number of Shriners to pass through the city on the way to and from the 1936 conclave, Mr. Steuart explained. One entire temple from Winnipeg plans to stay a day or two here, he added.

The object of Mr. Steuart's visit to the Pacific Northwest at this time was to assist in laying out housing and preliminary plans for the entertainment of the thousands of Shriners expected. The imperial potentate does not desire a repetition of conditions experienced in Seattle in 1915, when many Shriners found it necessary to house themselves in tents on top of the downtown hotels.

Although the Shriners are admittedly the play group of the Masonic Order, Mr. Steuart explained they had their serious side. Today the organization has fifteen of its own hospitals; twelve in the United States, one in Honolulu and two in Canada—at Winnipeg and Montreal. These institutions are dedicated to serve crippled and sickly children of poverty-stricken parents, and there are no exceptions made.

HELPING CHILDREN

"We want to give all children a chance of life," the visitor said, with deep feeling.

Money for the hospitals is raised by levying $2 against every member's yearly fee. Many endowments have been received for this work, Mr. Steuart stated, and now the organization has $6,000,000 worth of buildings and $3,000,000 worth of equipment.

Although every fraternal order has suffered during the depression, the Shriners have suffered least of all, he stated. Rapid forward strides have been made during the last year, however.

After a drive to R. P. Butchart's Gardens, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Steuart was tendered a banquet at the Empress Hotel by Victoria Shriners. With his wife and daughter, Miss Virginia Steuart, the imperial potentate plans to leave on this afternoon's boat for Vancouver.

SEARCHERS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Police Party Finds No Trace of Missing Prospector Lost in Wild Country

CHILLIWACK, July 31 (P)—Sergeant H. W. King and a party of five searchers returned here today after unsuccessfully scouring the wild country north-west of Hope and Yale for three days for a trace of R. J. "Curly" Hall, aged prospector, who is believed to have been buried in a rockslide or fallen into one of the many deep canyons. The prospector disappeared from his camp on Old Settler Mountain three weeks ago.

Last Sunday the party came close to the fate believed to have befallen Hall when a raging wind and rainstorm swept down on their camp half-way up the 9,000-foot mountain, ripping tents to shreds and sending the men back to hug the rocky mountain-side for a small measure of protection.

TO DISTRIBUTE MAPS AT BOATS

Tourist Trade Development Body Issues Highway Information for Visitors

The Tourist Trade Development Association yesterday began the distribution of its new map of the roads and points of interest about Victoria.

Executed by J. B. Davenport, in accordance with Mayor David Leeming's plan to make Lower Island features more accessible to tourists, the new guide shows only important routes, including trunk lines throughout the Saanich Peninsula, highways to Sooke, East Sooke and Metchoin districts, and Island highways as far north as Cobble Hill, including Fitzgerald Road to Shawnigan Lake.

AVOID CONFUSION

A determined effort has been made to eliminate the confusion so frequently caused by road maps overburdened with highways of small importance to visitors, but a wealth of information concerning little-known beaches, lakes and scenic spots is supplied in a comprehensive form. Weir's Beach and Witty's Lagoon, Victoria Goldstream Park and the pot-holes and falls at Sooke are a few of the often-neglected points of interest which are distinctly located. Scenic views at Mount Tolmie, Mount Douglas, the Metchoin Road and the Malahat Drive are carefully indicated. All parks, picnic grounds, golf courses and bathing beaches are clearly shown, while Pendray's and Butchart's gardens, the Government House, Experimental Farm and Saanich Observatory and the routes to them are well marked.

AMERICAN PLAN

In an attempt to make local points of interest more easily accessible to American visitors, the American plan for numbering routes and highways has been adopted, and plans are under way to erect numerical markers on the highways to correspond with the numbers on the association's new map.

The maps are being distributed by the Scottish pipers who meet in coming boats.

Flood Survivors in China Devouring Unripe Grain to Save Themselves

CHUNGSIANG, Hupeh, July 31 (P)—Flood survivors, swarming like locusts on the uplands behind this stricken city, devoured unripe grain today to save themselves from starvation.

Relief from Hankow was 300 miles away and coming slowly.

The mangled, ragged survivors, sometimes in bands 1,000 strong, worked away gradually from Chungsiang, where the dead seem to lie everywhere, the bodies of men, women and children mingled with those of animals.

The Han River, which brought unprecedented disaster to valley dwellers when it rose twenty feet in a few hours during the night of July 7, was still flooding the territory.

ANOTHER AREA HARD HIT

Meanwhile, from the Manchukuo-Korea border and northward, another multitude of flood sufferers was counting its dead by hundreds. Rengo (Japanese) news agency estimated that more than 1,000 perished in the floods and Monday's typhoon. But the worst was over; the waters had dropped two feet at Chiaoou, approximately 100 miles from Mukden.

The Mukden-Antung line reported turned while entering the railway yards, but details were not available.

ACTUARY HAS NEW PENSION SUGGESTIONS

H. P. Morrison Calls Attention to Seriousness of Question in Victoria

SCHEME WOULD SOLVE DEPLETION OF FUNDS

Attention is drawn to the seriousness of the municipal superannuation question here in a report of H. P. Morrison, Vancouver actuary engaged by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. A copy of Mr. Morrison's findings was received at the City Hall yesterday.

According to the report, on June 30 there was a deficit of $200,000 in the special reserve fund, for municipal pensions. If the city were to pay the necessary contributions for future pensions and also the current cost of present and imminent pensions, $10,099.43 would have to be provided each month. This sum is 26.44 per cent of the total city payroll, and is considered extraordinarily high.

Payment to present city pensioners is $4,663.10 each month, 12.29 per cent of the payroll. Difficulties have arisen, says Mr. Morrison, through the burdensome liability created by non-contributory past service and by employment of men whose ages rendered them pensionable before their contributions to the superannuation funds had reached a total sufficient to balance the pension allowed. He believes that adoption of a maximum contribution of 6 per cent of the payroll by all municipalities to pension funds is not workable.

GREATER DEFICIT

Dealing with retirement of policemen, firemen and female employees at the age of fifty-five as against sixty for other municipal employees, the report sets forth that although there may be increased mortality in the first two callings, the earlier superannuation would cause a greater deficit in the present pension fund.

Mr. Morrison advises establishment of one general superannuation fund for all municipalities in charge of a commissioner, with each municipality contributing according to the age, and past service of employees in order that pensions would not be greater than contributions were able to support. He does not advocate turning the fund over to an insurance company for administration.

Working out a concrete example of an employee aged thirty-five, who was eligible for a pension at sixty, Mr. Morrison found that a contribution of $5.78 per month from the employee, together with the municipality's share, would safely give the man $25 per month when he retired. It would also be possible for employees to make larger monthly contributions if they wished a greater pension allowance when their service was completed.

No employee entering the service in the future would come under the scheme if his age were twenty years less than the normal pension age. In the event of total and permanent disability after ten years' service, a pension based upon the retirement allowance would be paid. In the event of death after ten years' service, deceased's relatives would receive a refund of his contributions and a payment from the municipality.

Mr. Morrison feels that some municipalities might not find present pensions too hard to carry, but for others they form an insuperable obstacle in the present condition of municipal finances. Pensions of $1 per month for each year of service, payable at the age of fifty-five, would cost the city $5,358.37 each month, according to tables worked out by the actuary. This is an increase of $665.27 over the present cost, but would straighten out the superannuation situation, Mr. Morrison claims.

FORMER POLICE CHIEF CLEARED OF CHARGE

 day, Cameron had called Radermacher to the police station several days after the robbery and said he had certain information which might lead to the recovery of the bonds.
AGREED TO PAY REWARD
 Radermacher agreed to pay a reward of $300, which was paid over to the chief, who said it was to go to his informant. Later the broker received $4,000 worth of the missing securities and within a few days the remaining stolen bonds were thrust through the letter slot of his office door.
 Called as a witness at the opening of the trial today Radermacher said he did not wish to prosecute Cameron. He had been delighted with the work done by the chief and his men, Radermacher said, and still believed the recovery of the bonds was the result of good police work. He had signed the information which led to Cameron's arrest on the charge, Radermacher explained, because he believed it was merely a legal matter for the police to decide.

GOOD CONCERT AT SHOW BOAT

Islanders Present Two-Hour Programme of Entertainment for Visitors

Another big crowd gathered at the Show Boat in the Inner Harbor last night to hear the versatile programme of popular entertainment numbers presented by the Islanders Concert Party, under the direction of Tom Obee.

The concert was one of the regular series of entertainments sponsored by the Vancouver Island Tourist Trade Development Association and proved popular with the large crowd, and the applause was generous and encores numerous.

COMMUNITY SONGS

Harry Hay was master of ceremonies, and conducted a number of popular songs in community singing and also gave a brief address at the intermission calling attention to the idea of the Tourist Trade Development Association in sponsoring the concert, for the benefit of visiting tourists. He also announced that no concert would be held on Friday night, due to the public meeting being held in the City Temple to discuss the Island's better deal plan.

Tonight, Frank Tupman and his friends, assisted by T. H. Edick, will present a surprise concert, and another big crowd is expected to be on hand.

THE PROGRAMME

The programme last night consisted of orchestral selections by Jerry Schofield; orchestra; baritone solos by Arthur Jackson; humorous songs by Tom Obee; solos by Harry Hutchinson; violin solos by Jack Pullen; concert solos by H. F. Goodmurphy; Master E. Morrison, the boy soprano, in two solos; bass solos by Clifford Prescott, and novelty dances by Betty Clare and Victoria's original Billie Band, consisting of Jack Pullen, William Anderson, Archie Jasper, Todd Noble and Harry Hutchinson.

A full two hours of entertainment was provided.

Professor Gaston Jeez, French member who was counsel for Ethiopia on the arbitration commission, told the council the Ethiopian Government was prepared to participate in any negotiations looking toward peace.

THE WHOLE ISSUE

But he did not think discussion should be limited to the question of procedure. By the side of the arbitration question was the whole issue which accompanied arbitration, particularly the attitude of Italy.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

National Government was only another form of dictatorship, said Mr. King. The propaganda in its favor was being financed by special interests who wanted railways, tariffs and taxation used in their own advantage as no single party would dare.

The first step towards permanent recovery or reform in Canada would have to be a decisive repudiation by the people of all the tendencies towards dictatorship manifested in the last five years, said Mr. King.

AGREED TO PAY REWARD

Canada needed a new and different spirit in government, a spirit of brotherhood at home and abroad, instead of the spirit of the autocrat. Canadians had been living too much under a reign of terror.

ASSAULTS THIRD PARTIES

Mr. King said Canadians had had one experience of being deceived by election promises and asked if they wanted another. He assailed third parties, said they also arose as a result of discontent among the Conservative administration and appeared in the prosperity brought about by Liberal administration. A voter, whatever his views, could best make his influence felt by supporting and working within one of the two old parties which had long traditions of service.

"Third parties, in Canada, have invariably had their rise during years of Conservative administration," said Mr. King.

IN DEPRESSION YEARS

"There have been years of depression, due in large part, to reactionary policies. Years, moreover, in which discontent has been augmented by the administration hanging on to office long after it was abundantly apparent it no longer enjoyed the confidence of the electorate."

Instances of the rise and fall of third parties were the Patrons of Industry and the Equal Rights party in 1896 and the Progressive party in 1921. Now, under similar circumstances, today there were the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and the Reconstruction Party.

In his next two addresses the Liberal leader said he would have more to say of the tendency to dictatorship and would set out in detail the policies of the Liberal party.

Hurt While Riding At Powder Point

NANAIMO, July 31.—William Anderson, seventy-two-year-old resident of Powder Point, Nanaimo Bay, was brought by ambulance to Nanaimo Hospital, suffering from serious back injuries sustained while riding a horse in the district in which he lives.

THE FORMULA

1. Continuation of conciliation and arbitration, which bogged down in the deadlock of the conciliation commission at Scheveningen, The Netherlands, recently.

2. Neither Italy nor Ethiopia will resort to war measures in the meantime.

3. A fifth arbitrator will be appointed.

4. Signatories to the 1906 treaty between France, Great Britain and Italy, guaranteeing independence and territorial integrity for Ethiopia, will lend their good offices to secure a broad and general solution of the conflict.

5. Preparations are being made to send detachments of Sikhs from India to Ethiopia if reports from the British Legation in Addis Ababa indicate they will be necessary to protect the legation building, it was learned here tonight. Britain is also ready to evacuate British missionaries and their families now in Ethiopia. All the missionaries have been instructed to keep in close touch with the British Legation.

It was revealed in the House of Commons that no embargo has been placed on the export to Ethiopia of raw materials which could be used for the manufacture of munitions.

Great Britain has granted Italy thirty-five permits to send planes over British territory in East Africa, the House was told. Twenty of these were for British Somaliland and the others for the Sudan.

NOT FOR SALE
 (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
 ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, July 31.—Emperor Haile Selassie's Government—hoping for peace with Italy, but carefully keeping its powder dry—told the world in ringing language today Ethiopia's independence was not for sale or barter.

A defiant Foreign Office communique declaring this nation would refuse outright an Italian or other mandate appeared as the Emperor made his supreme challenge to the kings of the hinterlands, over whom the "king of kings" reigns, in secret session.

Almost unparalleled secrecy surrounded the meeting in the great courtyard of the palace. Informed quarters, however, said they believed the chiefs assembled to discuss preparations for possible hostilities.

The Foreign Office communique was emphatic in declaring Ethiopia had received no proposal involving partial or total surrender of her independence. Any such suggestion would be rejected forthwith, it said, adding:

"No amount of prosperity under foreign domination would compensate for the loss of independence."

"ITALY ONLY JUDGE"
 ROME, July 31.—Benito Mussolini seized control of Italy's metal and fuel imports for possible war use today, while his newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, renewed demands for "total solution" of Rome's quarrel with Addis Ababa.

Il Popolo said in an editorial, believed to be from Il Duce's own pen, it declared the problem "not one of treating with Geneva, without Geneva or against Geneva."

An official spokesman, meanwhile, denied reports received at Geneva that 15,000 Italian soldiers sent to East Africa were ill of dysentery.

Two Royal decrees issued today marked another phase of Italy's intensive preparations for war. One gave the Government full monopoly over two main branches, of coal, coke and their by-products, and of copper, tin, nickel, steel and other needed metals. The other empowered the Government to requisition shipping for troop transport.

 Annual Interest Charges of $40,000 For Equimait System to Be Paid Today
 Annual interest charges of $40,000 for expropriation of the Equimait waterworks will be made today by D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and treasurer. In ten years the mortgage has been reduced to $328,224.

Interest payments will be made annually up to and including 1937. Starting in February, 1938, the city will pay installments of $40,000 towards interest and retirement of the principal, and will own the system outright in 1952, after fifteen such payments.

In 1934 the city was given authority to invest its sinking funds in the purchase of shares of the waterworks company.

League of Nations Garden Fete Draws Throng of Visitors

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Mayor Leeming and Dean Quainton Officiate at Opening of Delightful Party at "Schuhum"—Is Much Enjoyed

COINCIDING with what Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, described in his opening remarks as a "fateful day" in the history of the League of Nations, the garden party held yesterday afternoon by the local branch of the League of Nations Society at the home of Miss Agnew, Rockland Avenue, was, despite the uncertain weather, a distinct success. The dean graciously thanked Miss Agnew, on behalf of the society, for her kindness in lending her home for the party.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, opened the affair, and spoke a few words on the purposes of the League, chief among which was economic security for the nations. While all nations were talking peace, he said, they were at the same time preparing for war, and the result of such a move was unemployment and general distress. His Worship Mayor Leeming addressed a few words to the visitors on the subject of the work of the League, and it was his opinion that real progress could not be made until the United States joined the League. It was important, he said, that Divine Ideals be inculcated into national life.

Mr. A. S. Averill, organizing secretary of the League of Nations Society in Victoria, headed the reception committee. Much of the success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Bertha Parsons, one of the most active of the conveners.

MANY ATTRACTIONS

The gardens looked very gay with the attractive stalls arranged under the trees, and the big crowd of visitors found endless amusement in the many games and contests as

Miss Kathleen Morrison Bride of Mr. R. S. Hawks

Popular Couple Married at Belmont United Church Yesterday Afternoon—Small Reception Follows Service—Will Reside Here

Miss Kathleen Morrison, who was attended by her twin sister, Miss Dorothy Morrison, and Mr. Robert Stanley Hawks, supported by his brother, Mr. William Hawks, of Duncan, were the principals in a quiet wedding which took place yesterday in Belmont United Church at 3 o'clock. Rev. James Hood officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morrison, 1605 Pembroke Street, and the groom is the son of the late Mr. William Hawks, of Victoria, and of Mrs. Hawks, 1122 Yates Street. Miss G. Evans presided at the organ, and as the register was being signed, Mrs. Loreto Shanks sang "I Love You Truly." The guest pews were tied with bunches of pink sweet peas, and during the ceremony the bride and groom exchanged a ring and a tulle veil attached to a cap of net and arranged with a strand of orange blossoms at the nape of the neck. She carried a bouquet of butterfly roses, carnations and sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue lace and a matching hat of straw and mohair, and pale pink lace mittens, and carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons and blue delphiniums.

Acting as ushers were Mr. Thorvald Arnason and Mr. Ellis Jones. A reception for relatives only was held after the service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Simmons, 1549 Pembroke Street, where blue hydrangeas and Shasta daisies were arranged in baskets. The wedding cake, surmounted with a silver vase filled with sweetheart roses, centred the tea table, which was decorated with pink and white sweet peas and tall pink candles.

TO LIVE HERE
Mrs. Morrison wore a navy blue printed suit, and Mrs. Hawks a navy blue redingote over a printed silk dress, and they both wore navy blue accessories.

After a motor trip to Campbell River, Mr. and Mrs. Hawks will reside at 1642 Chandler Avenue.

The bride went away in an olive green knitted suit with a cream jumper and brown accessories. Among the wedding gifts was a Rogers silver tea tray from the staff of Angus Campbell Co., Ltd., of which the bride had been a popular member for a number of years.

Little Child Safest Playing in Own Yard

Playground Equipment Is Inexpensive, Keeps Tot Happy. Little Miss Lucile Johnson, of Cleveland Heights, O., Plays Safely and Happily in Her Own Back Yard.

By LILIAN CAMPBELL
THOUSANDS of children are killed by accident every year, mostly by automobiles. Many of these youngsters killed are under six years of age.

How can we safeguard our children? How keep them out of the street? From walking behind one parked car into the path of one passing? From riding their bicycles in the road where a slight swerve too easily occurring makes an accident with an approaching car inevitable. Or how to prevent them from chasing a comrade or a ball into traffic?

Parents and teachers wrestle with the problem only to have their charges slaughtered in spite of their precautions. Training children to safeguard themselves by taking very strict measures when they are very young, is advocated by psychologists and child educators. These measures are calculated to fix inhibitions in the young minds so that when older the child instinctively avoids danger. Punishment for violating the safety rules must follow immediately to be effective, they say.

But still the sacrifices go on. One way to keep the youngsters safe is to have them play in their own yards. Playground equipment costs little. These pictures were taken by William Johnson in his yard in Cleveland Heights, O., and show his baby daughter, Lucile, in her swing, playing in the sand box and "chinning" herself on the horizontal bar.

These articles cost less than five dollars, according to Mr. Johnson—surely a small price to pay to keep the little one safe where mother can watch her. A man who is clever with his hands could get the materials and make such equipment for even less.

Several neighbors with children of about the same ages might make the buying of equipment a community affair, and the mothers take turns watching and supervising (as little as possible) the activities of the group of youngsters. This would leave the other mothers free to shop, attend the club meeting or get sewing or other absorbing work done, unhampered by interruptions.

Wedding Is Solemnized At St. Mary's, Oak Bay

Miss Winnifred Inglis and Mr. George Bennett Married Last Evening—Reception Held at "Mystic Spring," Cadboro Bay

Two prominent members of the congregation, and active workers in junior church activities, were married in St. Mary's Church last evening when Rev. Canon Nunns performed the marriage service for Winnifred, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Inglis, of "Mystic Spring," Cadboro Bay, and Mr. George Bennett, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bennett, 2330 Estevan Avenue.

BRIDE AND HER SISTERS

The bride and her sisters, who attended her, made a charming trio as they walked up the aisle to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," played by the organist, Mr. T. C. Wickett. She was given away by her father, and wore a gown of white silk lace with a coat, and a filmy veil of tulle, which fell from her forehead to her knees. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations, sweet peas and Ophelia roses tied with white satin ribbon. The bridesmaids, Dorothy and Gladys, wore frocks of frilled organza, in green and yellow, respectively, with long flared skirts and full capes. Their accessories were white, and they carried bouquets of flowers in harmonizing shades. The best man was Mr. Elrick Woods, and the ushers were Mr. Stanley Cooper, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Harry Hayward. During the signing of the register, Mr. Wickett played an organ solo.

RECEPTION HELD

After the service, a reception was held at "Mystic Spring," where the decorations were carried out in a color scheme of pink and white, and here the guests were welcomed by the parents of the bride and groom. Mrs. Inglis wore a dress of Marina blue, and a matching hat, and Mrs. Bennett was in pale blue, and they both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

The bride and groom were greeted by their friends standing beneath a large white bell, and later a buffet supper was served to the guests by girl friends of the bride, including Misses Dorothy Morson, Gwen Williams, Barbara Talbot, Joan Smith and Muriel and Phyllis Winterbottom. A four-tiered cake surmounted by a silver vase of bridal roses and fern, made by the bride's mother, centred the table. After a honeymoon on the mainland, for which the bride left in a smart blue suit and white accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will live at Cadboro Bay.

Among the guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. Bentley and Miss Ellen Bentley, of Winnipeg; Mr. E. Smith and Master Glenn Priestley, of Edmonton; and Miss Marion Salmon, of Calgary.

Among the beautiful presents were a silver vase from the groom's associates at Mr. W. M. Carmichael's silvermith establishment; a silver tea service from Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael; blankets and linen pillow cases from St. Mary's branch of the A.Y.P.A., of which the groom is president; a silver cake basket from the officers and members of the Victoria and District Local Council of the A.Y.P.A., to which the bride and groom both belong, and a silver rose bowl from the fellow-teachers of the bride and groom, and the pupils of St. Mary's Sunday school.

Woman Director

Of Hawaii Budget Is Visiting City

To advise and keep track of what money the Hawaiian Government spends, is the unusual work of Miss Mary K. Hart, budget director of the Hawaiian Islands, who is spending a brief visit at the Empress Hotel. She is en route to Montreal, New York and Central American points.

Miss Hart explained yesterday that the task of rehabilitating the people of Hawaii is a difficult one, occupying the attention of the Government at present. In this connection, the Government had established a homes' commission, which directed a scheme of well-planned homes, the occupants of which were at least 50 per cent Hawaiian. Inter-marriage was encouraged in the effort to rehabilitate the fast-disappearing Hawaiian race.

Jane Dixon Says:

NO REGULAR GIRL WANTS A MAN WHOSE HEART IS ELSEWHERE, AND NO REAL PARENTS, FOR SELF-SATISFACTION, WISH TO DEPRIVE THEIR CHILDREN OF THEIR RIGHT TO HAPPINESS

It is not unusual for two younglings to fall out of love. No shame attaches to such a fall. The shame is in carrying on the pretence of love when, in truth, it no longer exists.

Dear Miss Dixon: I have never cared much about going out with girls. About two years ago I met a young girl with whom I fell very much in love.

We have never gotten along together, even though we were in love.

I gave her an engagement ring at Christmas time, thinking it might change things; but it didn't, and I am thoroughly disgusted.

Recently I met a young woman through my business, and I'm afraid I've fallen hard for her. The feeling seems to be mutual. We have never had a cross word since we met.

The problem is that she does not know I am engaged. I have not gone out with her for that reason, and I know she is wondering. The first girl's parents would be very disappointed, and so would mine, if I were to break the engagement. But I cannot go on this way. I care too much for Miss Business. Please tell me what to do.

It may mean the change of the whole course of my life. I am old enough to know this is not puppy love, I have very sober habits. The girl to whom I am engaged is just the opposite. Unhappy.

SHOULD BREAK THE ENGAGEMENT

Answer: It's as plain as a nose on a face, Unhappy, that you are engaged to the wrong girl.

If, as sweethearts, you can't "get along together," what do you suppose will happen when you are married and have to get down to brass tacks?

Sweethearts who continuously have misunderstandings who bicker and pull in opposite directions, become married men and women whose homes are filled with nagging and family strife.

Both you and the girl to whom you are engaged are lucky that you are not among those who marry on impulse and discover their differences in taste and in temperament—too late.

About your respective parents and their disappointment—We should always hesitate to disappoint those whom we love. But if it is a case of letting them down a little or making them happy, we must choose the lesser of two evils.

Under existing conditions, marrying the first girl could not be a success. A broken engagement is unfortunate, but a marital failure is a great misfortune.

HE'S ON THE SPOT

Go to your fiancée and tell her quite frankly, that you are convinced the two of you have made a mistake. Tell her, too, that you wish to release her from her pledge to you. If she objects to such a release, say you are sorry, but because of your differences you have decided that it is for her best interest, and for yours, that you break your engagement. Be straightforward and firm.

No regular girl wants a man whose heart is elsewhere. No real parents, for self-satisfaction, wish to deprive their children of their right to happiness.

You are on the spot. You must make a decision. As I have so often written in this column, love that is worth while is worth fighting for. You'll have to take it on the chin, Unhappy, if you truly love Miss Business.

Gladys Glad On Beauty

The manner in which some of our present motion picture luminaries began their cinematic careers is interesting, and often amusing. Take the charming Sally Eilers, for instance. Sally, who now is one of the brightest and most popular young stars in Hollywood, first really made her screen debut in "Seventh Heaven." In this picture, nothing was shown of Sally except her legs. But they certainly must have made plenty of an impression on our picture producers. For Sally's shapely limbs have carried her "way up on the ladder to success."

According to Sally Eilers every woman should give her legs a thorough examination at this time of the year, with a view to improving any imperfections. And I personally think that her idea is an excellent one. For the beach bathing days are here—and bathing suits mean a great deal of leg exposure. Too often, women forget all about their legs during the Winter months.

their legs during the Winter months. They sort of mentally tuck 'em away in mothballs, along with their Summer togs. And when the revealing bathing days roll around, they are disgruntled to find that their limbs have become ugly and shapeless.

If, during the Winter months, your legs have acquired unsightly wads of fat in the wrong places, or have become thin and scrawny looking, now is the time to begin whipping them back into shape. And exercise is the basic method. Exercise both breaks up fat, and causes the development of firm, smooth muscle. The leg exercises outlined in my "New Figure" booklet are most effective in helping to shape the legs and improve their lines. And these exercises should be practised faithfully every day.

In addition to proper exercising, when the legs are thin and scrawny, warmed coco butter may be used to help nourish the starved tissues. The coco butter should be warmed to an oil and massaged well into the skin of the legs nightly. And it should be permitted, if possible, to remain on overnight. For too heavy socks, a reducing lotion made by dissolving two squares of gummed camphor, one tablespoon of turpentine and one teaspoon of powdered alum in eight ounces of rubbing alcohol may be used. This lotion should be patied on the legs several times a day and permitted to dry. And then a bit of cold cream should be used, in order to counteract any drying effects of the lotion.

Approximately 4,500
Tourists Come Here
On Alexander Ships

Traffic Well Maintained So Far This Season, Officials Reported—Visitors Make Heavy Purchases, Many Ranging as High as $500

It is estimated that the Pacific Steamship Company vessels, the Ruth Alexander, Emma Alexander and H.W. Alexander have been responsible for bringing approximately 4,500 tourists to this city since the summer tourist schedule was put into effect last May. It was announced yesterday.

Some conception of what this means to Victoria has been gathered from a survey of the baggage invoices that have been made by the shipping firm.

It was disclosed that tourists spend from $20 up to $400 and $500 during their brief visit in Victoria. It was difficult to strike an average, but it was reported that the $400 and $500 items were not exceptions. Many baggage invoices showed that tourists had purchased this amount of goods in Victoria, to take back with them to the United States.

There have been two arrivals here from the South each week since the first of May, one direct, and the other via Seattle. With each arrival, approximately eighty tourists were brought to Victoria.

Outbound, the embarkations here have totaled 200 a week, of which, it was reported, 70 per cent were American tourists, visiting the Northwest, who had come to Victoria to embark so as to spend several days' vacation in this city. Thus even on the southward trip the Alexander boats have brought tourists to this city.

AMERICAN CUSTOMS OFFICIALS report that seven out of every ten tourists returning to the United States have to make out an exemption declaration under the special provision which allows American tourists to take back $100 worth of goods. This means that if a man and his wife, and probably a daughter and son, visit this city, they can take back $400 worth of goods.

The shipping officials reported that the bulk of the merchandise taken out of this city comprised linen, chinaware and woolen goods. Many fine bred dogs also were purchased, while the baggage list often disclosed some odd types of purchases. One woman found a bargain in black currant jam, and bought a huge crock of it to take back home, because she liked it so well.

In keeping with the average number of tourists brought here from California by the Alexander boats, the Ruth Alexander will dock tonight about 10 o'clock to embark approximately eighty-five passengers before proceeding to Seattle.

DAVEY JONES

School of Mackerel Dives to Sea Bottom Carrying Seine Boat With It

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 31 (P)—This is the story of a school of mackerel that literally swallowed up nine fishermen and their boat.

Captain David R. Keating arrived in port today aboard the mackerel seiner Mary P. Curtis to report the adventure which occurred yesterday forty miles off Cape Cod's Highland Light.

The nine men, however, were with him, hale and hearty.

The captain said the men were in a seine boat, pursuing the seine about a large school of fish, estimated at 80,000 pounds, when suddenly the whole school dived for the bottom.

Down toward the bottom of the sea went fish, net, boat and men, and they part company, Keating declared, until the seine burst and the fishermen came floundering up once more to gulp fresh air.

There Keating picked them up in a skiff and today they made port with nary a sign to show for their narrow escape from Davey Jones' Locker.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE PLAYHOUSE STAR

Child Actress Featured With Lionel Barrymore in "The Little Colonel"—Good Cast

Lionel Barrymore, who is co-starring with Shirley Temple in "The Little Colonel," which comes today to the Playhouse Theatre, has in the course of a notable career earned the title of "dean of the American screen."

Born of a distinguished line of stage players, he has carried on the high family traditions and transferred them to the screen, bringing to the newer medium his unusual talents.

He began his career as an artist, but soon turned to the stage, rapidly winning a reputation before turning to pictures in 1909.

After a long and successful career in silent films, he became even more prominent in talking pictures, both as actor and director.

In 1931 he won the Academy award for the year's best masculine performance.

In "The Little Colonel" he plays the part of an obdurate Kentucky colonel, estranged from his daughter, who elopes with a Yankee.

Technicolor adds its glamor to this Fox film. The distinguished supporting cast is made up of Evelyn Venable, John Lodge, Sidney Blackmer, Aiden Chase, William Burreas and others. Bill Robinson, prince of tap dancers, brings his famous stair dance to the picture.

CAPITOL Joe E. Brown's latest picture, "Alibi Ike," which is the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre, is heralded as the most hilarious film in which the famous star has yet appeared.

The story was written by the late Ring Lardner, who probably knew baseball players better than any other author. It's a pennant-winning comedy of baseball and blondes.

DOMINION Laughs and thrills blend and excitement, romance and comedy run rampant in "Murder in the Fleet," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new detective thriller with a warship as its locale, now playing at the Dominion Theatre.

The story deals with murders on board, visitors and crew impounded, while a young lieutenant turns detective, trails a killer, and, after a desperate fight, corners him.

Columbia Offers Aviation Drama

William Bakewell, one of Hollywood's handsomest and most talented younger actors, actually depicts and passes up "leading man" opportunities, because he wants to be a character actor.

It did not take him long, however, to accept the role of Adolph, the psychopathic German flyer, in Metro Pictures' sensational air drama, "Crimson Romance," which is to be seen at the Columbia Theatre today.

The role calls for a high-strung young man who has an inherent dread of fire and who, through the demands of war, is forced into the German air forces. He is not afraid of being shot down, but has a horror of being caught in a burning plane. This dread preys on his mind until he kills himself. It is an outstanding bit of acting that will go far to aid Bakewell achieve his ambition.

"Crimson Romance" boasts an outstanding cast of photoplayers, headed by Ben Lyon and Sari Maritza, supported by Erich von Stroheim, James Bush, and Rodi Rosing. "Girl in Danger," Columbia's mystery thriller, featuring Ralph Bellamy as Inspector Trent, with Shirley Grey, Arthur Hohl and Charles Sabin in support, will be seen as the added attraction.

CONSIDER DRAIN PLAN IN OAK BAY

Council Hears Proposal to Extend Bowker Avenue System to Relieve Winter Flooding

Winter flooding in homes south of the Uplands golf links, extending past the Willows Exhibition Grounds, will be relieved this year if a plan considered Wednesday by the Oak Bay Council is carried out. The council heard a proposal from the municipal engineering department which suggested linking the Bowker Avenue surface drain with ditches running from the Uplands golf links south.

The council also considered a lengthy report from the engineering department on the present project, which provides for the drainage of homes near the fair grounds, which were flooded during the heavy rains of 1934.

The new drain extends from the Willows Beach along Bowker Avenue. Officials stated the work would be completed by the end of September. The cost will be $21,000, with all relief labor being employed. Cost of extending the drains to care for the area north of the fair grounds would be about $3,000, the council was informed. No definite action was taken on the latter plan.

Tug North Shore Slightly Damaged

VANCOUVER, July 31.—Fire which broke out aboard the tugboat North Shore today caused only slight damage to the vessel. A quantity of waste ignited in a locker while the ship was undergoing welding operations at the B.C. Marine Engineers & Shipbuilders, Ltd., wharf.

Coffee is not native in South America. It is supposed to have grown first in Abyssinia, although it was early found in Arabia.

New York Day by Day

—By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Joseph Hergeshelmer is likely literature's most thorough-going hedonist. More than any other writer of his time he lives the true life of a country gentleman at his large estate, Dover House, in a Philadelphia suburb. He's up at dawn to tramp through the hills wearing a bizarre and tweedy turnout. He has written a book telling how he spent seven painstaking years furnishing Dover House.

Those who know say his taste is superb. Once, for instance, he was looking for a certain Virginia serving table. There was only one to meet the specifications. But no one seemed to know where it was. Hergeshelmer combed the country and found it in a log cabin up a lost creek.

No other man has had such a profound influence in the present quest of the colonial. He was another accomplished writer to face the high blank wall, of opulence of expression this is regarded by many as indictment against other players. Someone mentioned Dolores and her peacock costume in The Follies. After listening awhile a young man in his early thirties inquired: "Dolores who?"

Art Frank, last of the chin-pieces comics, has been having his first fling in London along with his theatrical engagement. He finds he is as much of a Silas as the loose as he is on the stage. At an A.B.C. where he asked for pie and coffee, he got tea and a meat pie. Pie is a tart. Then a waitress in another place as the meal neared the end inquired: "D'wanta trifle?" He whispered, thumb-jerking to the lady by his side: "Nix, this is the wife." Trifle is a pudding.

Willson Lackey used to tell of the American-born Italian entering a shop in the Burlington Arcade for a safety razor. The clerk said he had a fine one for a guinea. "No use-cracks," said the patron, "let's see all the kinds you got."

Bod Reud, Brummel of the press agents and with a Social Register entrée, is turning a lingering convalescence from pneumonia into a playwriting effort in a lodge in North Carolina. All his adult years he has wanted to try his hand at the game, but never had time. Many crack playwrights have flowered out of convalescence. Noel Coward was acting, writing songs and revue skits when an illness sent him to a nursing home. During the tedium he wrote his first dramatic effort. His fellow sophisticate, Frederic Lonsdale, was similarly inspired while on the mend. Gene Walter was not only broke but ill when, in desperation, he clicked with his first play.

Thingumabobs. Herbert Marshall is known to his intimates as "Bart"... Ethel Barrymore is writing her memoirs... Huey Long, with men friends, pushes peas on his fork with his fingers, but at a tea table holds his cup expertly... Eleanor Patterson, Washington newspaper editor, gathers together the smartest celebrity crowds for dinner... John Hays Hammond is ardent in his enthusiasm for magic... George M. Cohan's Jap valet, Mike, is a grand opera fan... John Farrar is the only modern poet to become a success in business... Hannen Swaffer, London critic, is to edit a bombastic weekly in New York with a lot of capital behind it.

She was a jet-bonneted old lady on a swaying bus top, far up on Park Avenue. As they rode past a block of busy buildings, an out-of-town lady across the aisle inquired: "What are all those factories?" Shuffled the jet-bonneted lady: "Oh, a lot of whisky breweries."

DUNDEE HAS BROKEN JAW FROM FIGHT

Former Middle Champion in Hospital—Steele Now After Yarosz

SEATTLE, July 31.—Vince Dundee's broken jaw was the answer today of Freddie Steele, rangy, betting Tacoma middleweight, to the question, "how good is Steele?" after 125 battles in which he has only lost twice, both on decisions.

Dundee, Baltimore veteran and titleholder until a year ago, was at the Providence Hospital, nursing his jaw; the Steele camp was clad, clad in a mild word for it; and Pacific Northwest sports followers called for an early bout with Teddy Yarosz, the champion.

Nate Druxman, promoter who handled last night's fight, was ready to fulfill the wish.

"I'm going to make a good offer to Yarosz," he said. "We'd like to see him in action in the Northwest."

Dave Miller, portly manager of the twenty-two-year-old Steele, said at Tacoma that he'd already had offers to send his rangy battler into action in other parts of the country but he is in no hurry to accept them.

"I think we can get big money in the Northwest," he said. "There's no reason to believe fights in other parts of the country will be more advantageous."

BROKEN IN FIRST
Dundee's jaw was apparently broken in the first round of last night's scheduled ten-rounder, in which Steele knocked him to the canvas eleven times before Referee Tommy McCarthy awarded Steele a technical knockout in the third round.

The break is well back on the left side, between the second and third molars," said Dr. H. T. Buckner, after looking at X-ray pictures this morning. "He also has a slight concussion and shouldn't do any fighting for three months or more."

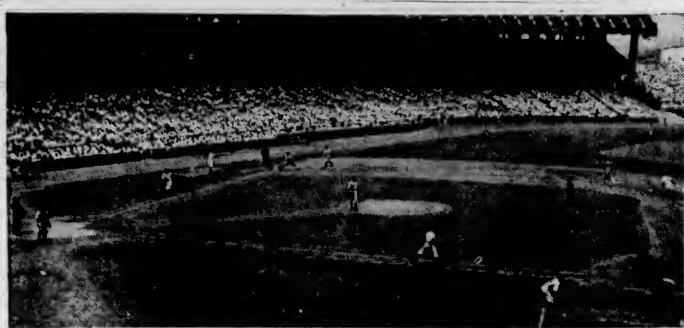

Max Waxman, Dundee's manager, said he didn't think Yarosz, who won the title on a split decision a year ago from Dundee would "last two rounds against Steele."

The receipts from last night's bout, Promoter Druxman announced today, were $17,252, with an attendance of 2,563, the second best "gate" in any fight ever held here. Jack Dempsey bettered it during his exhibition tour, with a $17,600 gate.

Ben Chapman's Clout Was of No Avail

An alert camera catches one of the highlights in the important series between the Yankees and Tigers, fighting for the American League lead at Yankee Stadium. Ben Chapman has hit fly ball to Pete Fox, of the Tigers, with all three bases occupied and two out. The four players are shown running; Selkirk toward home, Gehrig to third, Lazzeri to second and Chapman to first; but Chapman's fly was the third out, and all the sprinting was to no purpose.

The sports programme will be brought to a close on Sunday, August 18, with an exhibition polo match at the Poul Bay Road field, where the Victoria Centaurs Club will oppose the visitors.

Two oval ball fixtures, one on Monday, August 12, with the Canadian Scottish providing the opposition, and another on Saturday, August 18, with the Fifth Brigade taking the field against the visitors, will be played against H.M.S. Danae's fifteen. Both matches are scheduled at the Admirals Road ground.

On Thursday, August 15, a soccer match for the handsome Naval Veterans' Trophy, will be played at the Royal Athletic Park. Remember When (Twenty-Five Years Ago)

VANCOUVER, July 31.—In the one-mile race here today the only accident of the Pacific Coast championships occurred when Harry Ridson, of Seattle, spiked Sweeney, of Victoria, just before the sprint to the tape. Both runners were running neck and neck and as the J.B.A.A. athlete attempted to pass the Seattle wonder, Ridson spiked Sweeney in the heel. Although injured, the Victoria boy finished a winner, but as a bone in his heel is split, it will be some time before he can run again.

Word comes from Tacoma that the wife of Alex Stevens, one of Victoria West's popular athletes, who is now residing in Tacoma, has presented him with a bouncing baby boy. "Sweeney" in writing to a friend says it is the "best baby in the world." "That's what they all say," and what is more he is going to make a lacrosse player out of him, and intends that he shall wear the green and white of Victoria West, as his father did before him, just as soon as he is able. Even at that, if he does as well as Alex on the lacrosse field he will not do so badly.

With thirty minutes in which to make thirty-five runs, Victoria snatched victory out of yesterday's all-day cricket match by an eye-lash. It was the closest finish seen on the Jubilee green this Summer. When the locals came to bat for the second time they had to make the number of runs indicated in the time specified, and Messrs Lowry and York (J.W.D.) were sent in to do the work. They succeeded, the former securing twenty-eight and the latter eight, with three extras.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
NEW YORK, July 31.—The New York Giants' lead dwindled to a half-game today, when they dropped a 5-3 decision to the Phillies, while the second-place Cubs were splitting even in a double-header with the Pirates.

Home runs proved to be the downfall of the Giants, as Curt Davis turned back the league leaders for the second time this season and his tenth triumph of the year. John Moore and Dolph Camilli hit consecutive homers off Carl Hubbell in the second and Moore added another in the ninth after the score had given way to Leon Chagnon. Moore's circuit blows were his fifteenth and sixteenth, while Camilli's blow was No. 20.

SCOTT CAMPBELL BEATEN IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

Northwest Star Is One of Favorites To Be Eliminated

Present P.N.W. Golf Champion and Former Canadian Titleholder Drops Close Match at Public Links Tournament—Several Other Upsets Feature Day's Play

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, July 31 (AP)—A wave of upsets, the largest churned up by a pair of unknowns from California, struck the national public links golf championship today, sweeping away every important favorite, except Dave Mitchell, defending champion from Indianapolis, and Arthur Armstrong, of Honolulu, the man he beat for the title a year ago.

As the burning rays of a mid-summer sun all but stifled the field with more than 100-degree heat, a two-time champion, the current medalist and two former medal winners, among them the famed "Scotty" Campbell, of Seattle, passed out of the championship picture. It was one of the biggest series of upsets in the championship's fourteen years of play.

MEDALIST BEATEN
Lloyd Nordstrom, Swedish salesman from Davenport, Iowa, who led the field from start to finish in the race for the medal, was escorted out by Bob Tomes, a grey-thatched unknown to the tournament from Long Beach, Calif., in the second round. Fred Gordon, twenty-one-year-old movie lot worker from Santa Monica, Calif., upset Campbell in a hard battle that extended through one hundredth and to the final green, 1 up.

Tab Boyer, unemployed sports writer from Portland, Ore., who won the medal in 1933, was a first-round victim, defeated by Mike Perco, twenty-year-old gas station attendant from Buffalo, N.Y., 2 and 1, who later was eliminated by Joe Coria, a policeman in a St. Paul picnic park, 2 up. The former champion to fall was Charles Ferrera, of San Francisco, 1931 and 1933 winner, but it was Nordstrom who eliminated him in the first round, 4 and 2.

WAS BIG FAVORITE
Campbell, the young Seattle star who finished in a tie for runner-up honors in the qualifying round on Tuesday, was picked by many to reach the final, just as he did two years ago, but he met stubborn opposition in the Californian. Campbell was feared from the start, as he entered the meet with a fine golfing record behind, despite his twenty-one years. Twice he has held the Pacific Northwest crown, and a like number of times he has lifted the Canadian honors, the last time in 1934, when he defeated Ross Beach, Calif., in the second round at Montreal. However, Campbell took his defeat good-naturedly and can blame the extreme heat and changeable weather for his elimination.

HUDSON'S BAY CHALKS UP WIN IN CUP MATCH

Defeat Five C's, 177 to 99, in Wednesday League Cricket Fixture

Hudson's Bay Wednesday League cricket eleven opened their Berger Cup play in great style yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park, when they defeated the Five C's, 177 to 99, in a one-day match.

Going to bat first, Hudson's Bay started badly, losing Turner in the first over, but Jim Oakman and Frank Tyrrell, hitting out at everything, put on 104 runs before Oakman was retired by a nice catch by Vaughan. Tyrrell hit well all around the wicket and had eight four's in his fine score. Oakman played his fifty-nine in fine style.

When the Five C's batted they lost three wickets for nineteen runs. Muncy and Shrimpton carried the score to 82, but three additional wickets all fell at this total and the innings finished for 99 runs.

TREYRELL BOWLS WELL
Norman Tyrrell bowled exceptionally well for the winners, taking four wickets for the small total of fourteen runs.

Action During Third Test Fixture

England was again forced to take a draw when they met South Africa in the third game of the cricket Test Match series played at Leeds. Going to bat with England holding a long lead in runs, the Springboks stonewalled the English bowling, and delayed conclusion of play until the time limit expired, and a draw followed. The first game was also drawn, due to rain, with the South Africans winning the second. Here is Seidie, not out, getting a ball from Bowes away, despite a closely packed field, as South Africa batted in the third match. Mitchell is the other batsman.

Old-Timers Baseball Game Is Rained Out; Will Play Next Week

THEIR scheduled fixture with the Victoria Senior League All-Stars postponed because of rain before game time, Victoria's Old-Timers took full advantage of the postponement yesterday evening and went through a stiff workout under the watchful eyes of Manager "Stuffy" McGinnis, at the local ball lot.

Following the hard training session, the genial boss of the veterans announced that the game will be played next Wednesday at the Royal Athletic Park at 6 o'clock. Manager McGinnis looked with disfavor on the postponement, but with weather conditions unsettled, saw no other way out of the situation.

FLIGHT...by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASONTHE FIRST AIR MAIL MEDAL

WAS AWARDED TO
MAL B. FREEBURGH, AN AIRLINE
PILOT, FOR COURAGE AND COOL-NESS IN SAVING THE LIVES OF HIS PASSENGERS ON APRIL 12, 1932.

WHILE ENROUTE FROM
ST. PAUL TO CHICAGO
THE PROPELLER ON HIS
THE ENSUING VIBRATION
TORE THE ENGINE LOOSE
FALLING CLEAR, IT LODGED
IN HIS LANDING GEAR STRUTS.

FACED WITH THE
IMPOSSIBILITY OF MAK-ING A LANDING, HE FLEW
OVER THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER AND SHOOK THE ENGINE LOOSE INTO THE WATER. HE THEN FLEW TO AN EMERGENCY LANDING
FIELD AND MADE A SAFE
LANDING ON HIS ONE
GOOD WHEEL.

ON June 24, 1930, the Congress passed an act for the award of the air-mail flyer's medal of honor.
It was to be given to any person who, while serving as a pilot in the air mail service since May 13, 1918, distinguished himself by heroism or extraordinary achievement while participating in such service.

Propeller failure is a major accident; it is ordinarily is unless someone steps in with a display of coolness and nerve such as exhibited by Freeburgh. When one blade lets go, the engine is thrown so badly out of balance that it is soon loose from the ship.

THE TUTTS...

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

OGRE
Almost all our bogies are rooted either in the imaginative fears of old or the mythology of antiquity.
Chief among these survivals is our conception of an ogre as a maneating monster or fierce giant, frightful to behold and the personification of viciousness and cruelty.

While we have the word ogre directly from the Spanish ogro, this in turn is derived from the Latin Orcus.

Orcus was the Roman god of death, his kingdom being Hell.
Malignant and avenging, he took pleasure in administering over the infernal regions, his name being a jive in Travaso, Rome.
